

The Perfect Running Mate for Kamala Harris? Minnesota Governor Tim Walz!

As Vice President Harris considers candidates for Vice President, she should choose Minnesota Governor Tim Walz. He would be the perfect partner and would round out the Democratic ticket perfectly.

Here's why:

- 1. Governor Walz is a highly experienced leader with a superb track record during his five terms in Congress where he served on the Armed Services, Veterans, and Agriculture Committees.
- 2. He has led Minnesota to new heights in his two terms as Governor, guiding the state through the turmoil of COVID and the aftermath of George Floyd's murder with great aplomb. In the most recent legislative session, he was able to achieve major reforms such as paid leave, infrastructure spending, abortion rights, and background gun checks, while running the state at a surplus. As a result, Minneapolis was recently chosen as "The Happiest State in the Nation."
- 3. Tim Walz comes from a modest rural background, and spent 20 years as a teacher and football coach and served for 24 years in the U.S. Army.
- 4. He has been a big supporter of the business community in Minnesota as well as organized labor, as Minnesota has created well-paying jobs in its robust economy with one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation.
- 5. Walz is a moderate who is a firm supporter of abortion rights, public education, safety, and fiscal responsibility. As a member of the Lutheran Church, he is also a deeply committed Christian.
- 6. Nationally, he chairs the Democratic Governors Association, where he has built great relationships with Vice President Harris and Governors throughout the country.

In my opinion Governor Tim Walz would be the perfect partner for Vice President Harris as she begins her Presidential campaign.
